

Inauguration Day Writing Prompt: Inaugural Address

Inauguration Day is held every four years on Jan. 20, approximately two and a half months after Election Day. The president-elect and vice president-elect are sworn in and take office. After taking an oath of office, the new president gives an inaugural speech in front of a large audience. If you were to give your inaugural address as president, what would you say to the people of the United States of America?

A large writing area with horizontal blue lines for text entry, enclosed in a rounded blue border.

